Plot	In the apartment building, people are afraid of a wandering transsexual ghost. Their fear turns into a foreigner manhunt. But Marisa opens her door to all, organizing loud parties and curry dinners with foreign friends. A frightening scream coming from the stairs force residents to knock at Marisa's door, suspecting one of the foreigners is the ghost, they beg Marisa to drive them out – but she opens the door and invites the rioters to come in and enjoy the party. Meanwhile, in the stairwell, the real ghost, the hypnotized sleep-walker lawyer of the top floor, meanders threateningly...
